welcome

With our new lighting installed throughout the centre at the beginning of January, we're looking forward to a bright 2016.

We have lots to entertain and amuse everyone, from stunning exhibitions to top-flight films and shows, plus an ever-growing range of classes and workshops. New regular offerings include an all-age theatre group meeting here every Monday.

Actor and funnyman Omid Djalili will be with us for two nights in March! Book now... and also keep checking our website for details of our Whitstable Local Film Weekend.

We re-open after Christmas on Saturday 9 January but our online box office is open 365 days a year .

Ann Palmer

Ann Palmer is a landscape painter based in Rochester; she works 'en plein air' in Kent and in the Loire Valley in France. Ann works quickly, using both brushwork and palette knife, resulting in a freshness which is impressionistic yet creates a clarity of subject and defines the mood of the day.

Gaia

Collette Baumback

Gaia is an exhibition of paintings reflecting the spirit and intricate beauty of nature. The artist's work is essentially influenced by the texture and colour of flowers and foliage. She describes her artwork as organic, impressionist and sometimes abstract, with the use of texture essential to add a three dimensional quality.

In a Mind's Eye

Jacqueline Newbury

Inspired by the love of paint, Jacqueline Newbury conducts an orchestra of colour. The spice of imagination takes the leading role, with landscapes' constantly changing views. Journeying through life's adventures, a fascination towards the artist's mind, experiences, emotions and wishes, through the love of painting... "If a painter wishes to see..." Leonardo Da Vinci.
